THE CAMPUS COMMUNITY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

The University of Missouri (“MU” or “Mizzou”) was founded in 1839 in Columbia, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in Thomas Jefferson’s Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides all the benefits of two universities in one — it’s a major land-grant institution and Missouri’s largest public research university. Considered one of the nation’s top-tier institutions, Mizzou has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research, and is the flagship of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 34 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou has a diverse enrollment with students from every county in Missouri, every state in the nation, and 100 countries. The favorite classroom for the best and brightest, Mizzou attracts more valedictorians, Curators Scholars, and twice as many of the state’s Bright Flight Scholars than any other college or university in Missouri. Nearly one-third of freshmen come from the top 10 percent of their high school classes.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES.

FINE ARTS BUILDING. The administration staff and most of the music faculty are located in the Fine Arts Building located on Lowry Mall in the center of the campus. Completed in 1960, this facility also houses the Department of Theatre, with its own performance hall, and the Department of Art. The music wing of the building contains administrative offices, classrooms, faculty studios and offices, the choral library, practice rooms, and a 240-seat Recital Hall. Larger audiences are accommodated in Jesse Auditorium, located in Jesse Hall (one block west of the Fine Arts Building) and The Missouri Theatre, located at the corner of 9th Street and Cherry Street in downtown Columbia.

LOEB HALL. The Band/Orchestra Rehearsal Room, offices for the Band, Orchestra, jazz and percussion faculty, the Band/Orchestra Library, and percussion practice rooms are located in Loeb Hall, at the corner of 5th & Elm.

HILLEL. The Digital Piano and MIDI Laboratory is located in 101 Hillel, located immediately to the east of the Fine Arts Annex. This laboratory consists of electronic pianos equipped with Apple computers and MIDI interfaces. All computers are equipped with the newest notation and sequencing software. Also, for purposes of demonstration and complete pianistic experience, there is an upright acoustic piano in the room.

MCKEE. McKee 204 houses the Choral Ensembles and Show-Me Opera Class. Access is easiest obtained by entering via the North door of the building.

NEW MUSIC BUILDING. Located on the corner of Hitt and University, the new music building is under construction with a projection date for classes to start in Spring 2020.

LIBRARY

The Elmer Ellis Library provides outstanding facilities for course preparation and scholarly creative work. There are study carrels and study rooms for special projects, as well as computer laboratories, on-line searches of several different computer-readable databases, and an on-line catalog of an increasing percentage of the library holdings. More than thirty seminar rooms, each seating ten to fourteen students, are available for use as specialized graduate study rooms. The Library is located directly across Lowry Mall from the Fine Arts Building, and it houses books and periodicals on music. The music collection, one of the major collections in the Midwest, is located primarily on the fourth floor of Ellis Library, and is an extensive Recorded Sound Collection. For reference information regarding Music materials available in Ellis Library, please contact librarian Mike Muchow, MuchowM@missouri.edu, 573-882-6284.

OTHER FACILITIES

A substantial collection of books, records, and additional instructional material related to music education is available in the College of Education's Instructional Material Center, located in Townsend Hall.

MUSICAL OPPORTUNITIES

In a typical academic year, the School of Music sponsors a number of concerts, recitals, and other musical events. These include a wide variety of musical genres, both faculty and student solo and chamber recitals, and concerts by the bands, choral organizations, and orchestras sponsored by the department, as well as lectures, conferences, and symposia.

Students may also attend programs sponsored by the University Concert Series at very reasonable, reduced rates. Several different series of concerts provide a wide variety of musical experiences, including major artists and larger ensembles, chamber ensembles, artists from a variety of media such as jazz, dance, and the musical avant garde.

The School of Music is affiliated with two local music organizations. The We Always Swing Jazz Series is a concert-producing and educational organization designed to present, promote, preserve, and celebrate the great American art form known as jazz. More information is available at <http://www.wealwaysswing.org/>.

The Odyssey Chamber Music Series is committed to presenting masterpieces of chamber music repertoire that span over four centuries, in mixed ensembles of all instruments. OCMS hopes to cultivate interest in quality classical music performances through innovative programming involving professional local performers as well as guest artists from outside the community. More information is available at <http://www.odysseymissouri.org/>.

Several smaller educational institutions in the mid-Missouri area also sponsor musical events that are available to the MU community. Stephens College and Columbia College (both in Columbia), Central Methodist University (in Fayette), and William Woods University and Westminster College (both in Fulton) are all easily within driving distance and all regularly present quality cultural and musical programming. Because the University is located midway between St. Louis and Kansas City (about a two-hour drive on Interstate 70 to either city), students can easily attend major musical events in these metropolitan areas including performances by the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra, the Kansas City Symphony, the Opera Theatre of St. Louis, and the Kansas City Lyric Opera.

ENSEMBLES

The School of Music houses a variety of Faculty and Student ensembles. More information regarding these opportunities may be found at <https://music.missouri.edu/?q=ensembles>.

SPECIAL POLICIES ON SMALL/CHAMBER ENSEMBLES FOR UNDERGRADUATE MUSIC EDUCATION MAJORS

Instrumental: Students enrolled in applied instrumental lessons are required to participate in small or chamber ensembles. Students will participate in the studio ensemble at the discretion of the instructor and/or be assigned to appropriate chamber ensembles.

Choral/vocal: Vocal music education majors in choral ensembles will be expected to participate in a small vocal ensemble, coordinated by the choral music education faculty. Small ensemble rehearsals may be scheduled during ensembles' regular rehearsal times or at other available meeting times. Vocal music education majors currently or previously enrolled in Opera Workshop, Hitt Street Harmony, or Summer Singers may be exempted from this requirement.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN MUSIC. Obtaining a degree in music from a strong, well-established School of Music in a major university can be the foundation for success in many types of careers. Music graduates are making important contributions to our society as performers and as teachers in studios, colleges and universities, public and private schools. Careers are also available in composition, the music industry, music criticism, recording, writing, arranging, historiography, music librarianship, and church music, or as music supervisors and administrators in both secondary and higher education. In addition, many graduates find professional success in other fields because of the combination of discipline and creativity that the study of music fosters.

UNDERGRADUATE STUDY

GENERAL INFORMATION AND ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

The School of Music offers two distinct undergraduate degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts (BA) and the Bachelor of Music (BM) degrees through the College of Arts and Science. The general academic stipulations that follow are those that apply to all undergraduate students pursuing these degrees.

NORMAL ACADEMIC LOAD. Twelve credit hours is the minimum full-time academic load per semester. However, a more typical load for most music students is 14-17 hours. During the summer session, the minimum full-time enrollment is 6 hours; the maximum is 9 hours.

TIME LIMITATION ON DEGREE CREDIT. A student whose education has been interrupted for more than one semester may not apply toward graduation any credit earned eight or more years prior to the resumption of the degree.

LEVELS OF PERFORMANCE STUDY. The School recognizes two levels of expectation in undergraduate applied music study—the underclass level and the upperclass level. Within each level, different course numbers are appropriate for different purposes and goals. The underclass level includes the course numbers Music 1445 and 2445 for non-majors, and 1435 and 2455 for music majors. The upperclass level includes Music 4445 for non-majors, and 3455 and 4455 for music majors.

All undergraduate music majors begin study in their major performance area with Music 2455. After completing 4 semesters at this level, the student auditions for entry to the upperclass level that is appropriate to his or her degree program – 3455 for music education, bachelor of arts, music history, composition, and music theory majors; or 4455 for performance majors.

Applied study in Music 1435 is generally available to music majors pursuing study in a secondary performance area—one in which their technical expertise is not comparable to that of an incoming freshman major in that area. For example, if the student passes the Piano Proficiency requirement by taking the appropriate classes (Music 1610, 1611, 2610 and 2611), continued study on piano should probably be at the level of 1435. Course descriptions containing all prerequisites and expectations for all levels of study may be found in the course catalog available through the myZou application.

GRADUATION PLAN. During the semester in which a student surpasses 60 earned credits, the College of Arts and Science requires a Graduation Plan to be submitted in the Arts & Science Advisement Center (107 Lowry Hall) before enrollment is permitted for the following semester. This document formally acknowledges the student's choice of a major, lists all courses successfully completed, and identifies the remaining requirements for graduation. Graduation plans are available online at <https://music.missouri.edu/?q=undergrad>.

PROFESSIONAL STANDING IN MUSIC EDUCATION. The College of Education requires an ACT composite score of 22 and a minimum grade point average of 2.75 for admission to Professional Standing and all junior level courses. Application for Professional Standing must be made at the end of the sophomore year. For further information, students should contact the Director of Music Education.

GRADES. The University of Missouri's grading policy may be viewed at <http://registrar.missouri.edu/grades-calculators/>.

APPEAL OF GRADES. There are times when a student will disagree with the grade assigned him or her by a teacher. In order to provide a fair, sensitive, and controlled process for review and resolution of these situations an appeal policy has been established. This policy may be viewed at <http://registrar.missouri.edu/policies-procedures/grade-appeals.php>.

COURSE REPEAT POLICY. If an undergraduate student receives a C- or below in a course and takes the course a second time, the grade may be replaced after the student submits a request for GPA adjustment form. Details may be found at <http://registrar.missouri.edu/policies-procedures/course-repeat.php>.

MINIMUM GRADE POINT AVERAGES. For students registered in the BA, BM in music performance, theory, history, and composition degree programs, no course that is completed with a grade below C- may be used to fulfill a music requirement without approval of the advisor, School Director or Director of Undergraduate Studies, and the Dean. Undergraduate students must have a 2.0 grade point average in all School of Music courses attempted and an overall grade point average of at least 2.0. Students in music education must achieve a grade point average of 2.75 for admission to Professional Standing in teacher education and must maintain a grade point average of 2.75 to remain in the program and to graduate.

SCHOLASTIC DEFICIENCIES AND STANDING. Those students who do not maintain satisfactory scholastic averages may be required to withdraw from the University of Missouri. A student who is ineligible to continue in any one division on the Columbia campus will not be admitted to any other division except with the permission of both deans concerned. At the time of graduation, all candidates must be in good scholastic standing. No student on scholastic probation will be graduated.

PETITIONING (Changes in registration, including dropping or adding credits after the regular registration period). Such changes must be done early in the semester, before deadlines that are published specifically for each semester. In any case, no student may enter a course after the sixth meeting of the class. A student may withdraw from a course with no record appearing on his official transcript during the first six weeks of the semester (during a comparable percentage of the semester in Summer terms) as long as his or her work in the class to that point is passing, and if the total enrollment does not fall below the 12-hour minimum academic load. Withdrawal information and forms may be found at <https://registrar.missouri.edu/add-drop-withdrawal/withdraw-from-course.php>.

DUAL ENROLLMENT. Under specific circumstances, seniors who are approaching graduation can be dually enrolled in their undergraduate college and the Graduate Studies Office. These students must be beginning their last semester of undergraduate work, but have less than a full semester of work remaining of the bachelor's degree, and must rank in the upper half of their class. After obtaining the approval of the appropriate deans, they may register simultaneously in the Graduate Studies Office for courses sufficient to make full-time enrollment. Qualified undergraduates who do not avail themselves of the opportunity of dual enrollment will not receive graduate credit for courses beyond their graduation requirements. Dual Enrollment application forms may be found online at <http://gradstudies.missouri.edu/forms-downloads/>. (Form name is Dual Enrollment for Senior Undergraduates Application Form).

TRANSFER CREDIT. Credits earned at other institutions may be applied to a degree at MU if approval is granted. Official transcripts must be received by the Office of Admissions, which assesses transfer credit. In the case of music courses the Office of Admissions consults the School of Music through the Associate Director.

UNIVERSITY RULES AND REGULATIONS. Every year the University of Missouri produces the M-Book, a document subtitled "Rules and Regulations of the University of Missouri/Columbia". The document is viewable at <https://accountability.missouri.edu/university-policies/>.

RECITAL/CONCERT ETIQUETTE. A live musical performance is the culmination of much time and effort invested by the performers, and they deserve the respect and attention of their audience. Likewise, other audience members need to be free from distraction to enjoy the experience. Therefore, all audience members need to show consideration for others and refrain from talking, entering, leaving, or using electronic devices during performances. Texting, in particular, has become a common annoyance. Cell phones and other handheld devices must be turned off and left off until completion of the program.

ROOM SCHEDULING

To reserve a rehearsal time in a room in the Fine Arts Building, Hillel Piano Lab, or McKee 204, please see Susan Worstell in the Music Office (135 FAB) to check on facility availability. Classroom reservations are subject to availability and approval of the faculty and/or staff and for activities pertaining to students' music studies.

RECITAL INFORMATION

Information regarding recital policies and procedures may be found at https://music.missouri.edu/sites/default/files/current-files/recital_form_6.pdf.

POSTING FLIERS/ANNOUNCEMENTS. It is University policy to only post items on bulletin boards in the buildings. Please do not hang fliers on the stairwell or bathroom doors or on any glass. Please only post School of Music-related items on the bulletin boards in the hallways and stairwells. Any non School of Music-related items will be removed and discarded.

PRACTICE ROOMS. Practice rooms are available for the use of students taking private lessons or performing in university ensembles. Daytime practice room hours may be reserved by music students during the second week of each semester in the department office. Students may reserve a room for the number of hours per day as they are enrolled in studio instruction. For example if a student is enrolled in 3 hours of studio instruction, they may sign up for 3 hours a day of practice room time. There is no charge for practice room use or reservation. Use of the practice rooms by students who are not enrolled in music courses during the fall and winter semesters is not permitted except by special permission.

When school is in session, the Fine Arts Building is open from 7:00 am-11:00 pm every day. Doors to the practice room area are locked after 9:00 pm on weekdays and all day on weekends. Students enrolled in a music ensemble and/or music techniques course can obtain a keycard from the Music Office that will allow them access to the practice room area of the Fine Arts Building during these hours.

Student Responsibilities For Use Of Practice Rooms

1. No tobacco, food or beverages are allowed in the practice rooms.
2. Do not use equipment in the practice rooms for purposes other than those for which it is intended (i.e., a piano is not intended to be used as a desktop).
3. The practice room schedule posted on the room's door indicates the times reserved by students for practice. If a person who is scheduled to practice is not in his/her room by ten minutes after the class period begins, then anyone may use the room. During hours marked "open," the room will be available to all students on a first-come basis.
4. Because of the possibility of theft, instruments, books, and personal items should not be left in the practice rooms.
5. You must have been issued a key card in order to use the practice rooms between 9:00 pm and closing during the weekdays and when the building is open on weekends. The practice room area is locked for the protection and safety of our students and instruments. Please do not prop open the stairwell doors and/or allow unauthorized people into the practice room area.
6. Since a large number of people use the practice rooms during the day and night, it would be appreciated if everyone would help keep the rooms neat and clean. Please pick up any trash found in the rooms and place it in the proper container.

LOCKERS. Lockers are available free of charge for use in the School of Music. The locks are provided by the School of Music. These lockers provide some measure of security for books, music and instruments. All but the largest of instruments (e.g., tubas, horns, saxophones, etc.) will fit in the lockers. A special locked room is provided for these larger instruments. Please see Susan Worstell in 135 Fine Arts Building to reserve a locker. Please do not store food, liquid that is not securely sealed, or illegal substances in the lockers. Lockers are subject to search at the discretion of the department.

KEYCARDS. The School of Music has a keycard door system for evening and weekend hours to provide a measure of security and protection for those students practicing in the building after regular hours. The keycard ensures that each student entering the practice room area has official permission to do so; unauthorized persons are prevented from entering the practice facilities area, from using and perhaps harming any instruments, and from endangering authorized students. In accepting a keycard, the recipient signs an agreement which states that he/she accepts the following responsibilities: 1) to maintain personal possession of this card at all times, 2) not to loan this card to others or permit others to use their card, and 3) to return this card to the Music Office on or before the last day of the final examination period at the end of each semester. According to the signed agreement, failure to return the card (by either loss or neglect) will result in a $25 charge being imposed. If this charge is not paid, students may be prevented from enrolling in future classes, receiving a diploma, or receiving a transcript from the university. Please see Susan Worstell in 135 Fine Arts Building to obtain or renew a keycard.

BUILDING USE. Students are not permitted to teach private lessons on University of Missouri property except when teaching through the Community Music Program. Anyone found violating this policy will be subject to discipline such as is rendered in cases of academic dishonesty.

FEES AND EXPENSES

Information regarding fees and expenses at the University of Missouri may be found at <http://cashiers.missouri.edu/costs/index.html>. The following two areas pertain specifically to music students.

ENSEMBLE PARTICIPATION SCHOLARSHIPS. Each semester, students who enroll in Music Ensemble courses are allotted $250 towards the Education Fee for each of the first two ensembles they enroll in and $150 for the third ensemble. This includes all Instrumental Ensembles, Choral Ensembles, Chamber Music Ensembles, and Opera. If a student drops an ensemble, the scholarship for that ensemble will be rescinded.

APPLIED MUSIC FEE. Each student registered for any applied music course will be assessed an Applied Music Fee to partially offset the high cost of musical instruments, equipment, and their repair and maintenance. The fee will be assessed only once each semester for each student, regardless of the number of applied music courses the student is registered for that semester.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL MUSIC MAJORS

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity is fundamental to the activities and principles of a university. All members of the academic community must be confident that each person's work has been responsibly and honorably acquired, developed, and presented. Any effort to gain an advantage not given to all students is dishonest whether or not the effort is successful. The academic community regards breaches of the academic integrity rules as extremely serious matters. Sanctions for such a breach may include academic sanctions from the instructor, including failing the course for any violation, to disciplinary sanctions ranging from probation to expulsion. When in doubt about plagiarism, paraphrasing, quoting, collaboration, or any other form of cheating, consult the course instructor.

If you have special needs as addressed by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and need assistance, please notify the Office of Disability Services, S5 Memorial Union, 882-4696 or course instructor immediately. Reasonable efforts will be made to accommodate your special needs.

APPLIED LESSON JURIES. Every student enrolled for credit in applied lessons (Studio Instruction) must take an applied music jury at the end of each semester (summer session excluded), whether or not he or she has presented a recital, concert performance, or ensemble performance at any time within a given semester. In general, most students can expect to have a jury of 5-10 minutes. Students auditioning for a higher performance level course, or those registered for 4-5 hours of applied lessons credit, should be prepared for an examination of 10-20 minutes.

In the Voice Area, the audition Upper Level Applied Study (going from 2455 to 3455 or 4455 level) will consist of the following:

4 selections, all sung from memory:

1 song in Italian

1 song in French

1 song in German

1 song in English, prepared by student without teacher intervention (although teacher may help student select an appropriate song)

ENSEMBLE PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS. All undergraduate music majors, except music education majors during the semester of student teaching and piano performance majors, must enroll and make a passing grade in a major ensemble each semester they are registered as a full-time student. Instrumentalists (Woodwind, Brass, Percussion, and String Players) must audition at the beginning of each fall semester for large ensemble placement. Participation in other major ensembles as approved by the Ensemble Committee will satisfy the Ensemble Requirement.

Piano performance majors are required to take two semesters of a major ensemble (choral (MUS_ENS 1842) or instrumental (MUS_ENS 1841)), two semesters of Keyboard Skills (MUS_I_VT 2661 & 2662) and four semesters of Chamber Ensemble (MUS_ENS 1846).

Music education students pursuing certification in both vocal and instrumental music should be registered in an ensemble corresponding to their major area for at least 7 semesters, and in an ensemble in their minor area for at least 4 semesters. Except for string concentrations, one semester of Marching Mizzou is required for music education majors in the Instrumental K-12 and Vocal & Instrumental K-12 degree programs.

CAPSTONE EXPERIENCE. Students must take a course that qualifies as a Capstone Experience; that is, an academic activity that integrates general knowledge with the specialized knowledge each student has developed in the major area. For more information please visit the following:

Bachelor of Music: Capstone Experience section of <http://music.missouri.edu/undergraduate/bm.html>.

Bachelor of Arts in Music: Problems course section of <http://music.missouri.edu/undergraduate/ba.html>.

Bachelor of Music Education students fulfill the Capstone requirement through completion of the Student Teaching Internship and Music Education Synthesis Project.

GRADES. For all BA and BM candidates, courses completed with grades below C- will not fulfill music requirements without the approval of the advisor, Associate Director or School Director, and the Dean; and the student must achieve an overall average of 2.0 in all of these courses taken for the degree.

All statements in this publication are announcements of present policies only and are subject to change at any time without prior notice. They are not to be regarded as offers to contract.
