The MU School of Music offers graduate assistantships to qualified master of music and doctoral students. The Music Theory teaching assistantship is a quarter-time appointment (10hrs per week) with an anticipated stipend of $8,193.90. This amount is paid to students over the nine months of the academic year.

In addition, tuition for coursework required for the degree is waived during the appointment period. This waiver covers both Missouri residents and non-residents at all levels. The latest information on tuition and fees may be found at cashiers.missouri.edu/costs/index.html

Quarter-time assistantships also come with a 50% allowance for health insurance.

Duties may include
Assisting freshman or sophomore theory classes, or teaching Fundamentals of Music (for non-music majors).

Eligibility
Applicants for the MM in composition or music theory or other areas with appropriate skills. Applicants interested in an assistantship in music theory must arrange for an interview and should plan to do so while on campus for their primary audition audition or interview for School of Music admission.
